Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-29, drawn to a method of and a system for determining if a user's right to access an electronic content is restricted or unrestricted. If it is restricted, then providing the content to the user along with an advertisement and if it is not restricted, then providing the requested content to the user without any related advertisement.
- II. Claims 30-35, drawn to a method of and a system for subsidizing a web site for freely providing an electronic content to users by offering for sale to the users, on behalf of the web site, the requested electronic content and for providing the content to the users, free of any advertisement, if the users have actually purchased the electronic content.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed. The subcombination has separate utility by itself such as subsidizing a web site for freely providing an electronic content to users by offering for sale to the users, on behalf of the web site, the requested electronic content and for providing the content to the users, free of any advertisement, if the users have actually purchased the electronic content.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
